

MOOJAG and the SLOTH GUARDIANS

By N.E. McMorran

The final instalment in the two-time NAUTILUS BOOK AWARD-winning neurodivergent cli-fi series

Moojag and Nema are back for a final roller coaster of an adventure, this time to save Box Hill from total destruction and rescue a bunch of mossy sloths from nasty Brix's celebration feast. But their new, slow-moving friends have a secret weapon and together they're all set to prove that saving the Real World literally takes guts!

On 'Lost Memories':

"Fantastical fun with a deep message about the value of human memories. I loved that three oldies took centre stage with so much dynamism, humour and wisdom whilst taking memory loss head on. Go grannies!"

Patience Agbabi - Poet / author - The Leap Cycle

FOR READERS
AGED
9 - 99

About MOOJAG

A multi-award-winning three part dystopian, cli-fi mystery with neurodivergent cast, focusing on themes of neurodiversity and self-discovery, society and sustainability. The series follows the adventures of its autistic main characters and their utopian neurodivergent community. Based on Box Hill Island, in the future Surrey Isles following climate catastrophe. The books are aimed at readers 9 years and over, with 'Auticode Secret' recommended as a family read due to its thought-provoking content.

whatsappchatinstatwitface: @MOOJAGbook

WWW.MOOJAG.COM

INDUSTRY PRAISE FOR LOST MEMORIES

"A thrilling adventure!"

BEN DAVIS - Author, LENNY LEMMON

"Captivating... vibrant whimsical fun!"

ALEX FALAŠE-KOYA - Author, MARV

"Fantastical Fun. Go grannies!"

PATIENCE AGBABI - Author, The LEAP CYCLE

"A brilliant story... authentic representation..."

SEAN FLETCHER - Journalist / Presenter

About the AUTHOR

N.E. McMorran is an award winning AuDHD British-Cypriot author who previously worked for the BBC as researcher, and taught in London primary and secondary schools. She has also worked with the National Autistic Society and the London Autism Group Charity, as well as a mentor on Westminster's 'City Lions' project.

She founded Spondylux Press in 2019 to help neurodivergent writers produce books and promote neurodiversity, sustainability and social change. Her debut children's novel Auticode Secret, winning the Nautilus Book Award in 2021, was inspired by her experiences growing up in a neurodivergent family and the journey to late autism diagnosis. She also directed the award-winning full ND-cast audiobook version narrated by dyslexic actor Indica Watson (Who is Erin Carter? / Midwich Cuckoos / A Boy Called Christmas) and autistic comedian Ria Lina.

SALES & DISTRIBUTION

Publication date: 10 December 2025

Launch Party: London December date TBA
Visit @moojagbook @spondyluxpress for updates.

Worldwide distribution: Gardners UK / Spondylux Press

9781838097844 Paperback £8.99 (12.9x19.8)

978-1838097851 e-book/Kindle £6.99

Genre: Middle Grade, Dystopia, Speculative, Cli-fi, Animals, Adventure, Autism, Teaching children about Neurodiversity, Preparing for disaster, Eco-fiction, Multi-generational, Family.

Themes: disability, autism, sloths, neurodivergence, mental health, separation, STEM, climate change, climate catastrophe, fracking, conservation, sustainability, war and conflict.

@nemcmorran @SpondyluxPress

WWW.SPONDYLUXPRESS.COM

For more info, ARCS, and interviews
Contact: media@spondyluxpress.com

